TABLE OF CONTENTS

The table of contents is empty because you aren't using the paragraph styles set to appear in it.

(My MacBook opened the document in Pages, so this part didn't load.)

For each test, the developer should: provide a test description, a test objective, the developer name and date tested. For each step, fill out the actions to be taken and describe the expected results, and indicate yes or no for each step depending upon the result. The peer tester should provide their name, date tested, indicate yes or no for each step depending upon the result, and a screenshot (thumbnail) of the result.

Comments	I like how you didn't litter your Test Plans with the unnecessary obvious steps such as "Open Todo List app site" but I think some people might desire the extra clarity for future reference. The specificity of the steps was nice for clarity though and they all checked out. - ZK

Comments	The edit function works perfectly with easy steps on a friendly user interface, but will the edits be saved even if the app's page is refreshed? The details in your steps are very helpful! - ZK

Comments	The succinctness in your test plans cannot be appreciated enough, but for this one I think it's worth noting that there should be a confirmation of task removal just incase someone accidecanlly picks the wrong task for deletion. -ZK

Comments	Interesting Test Plan with some key perspectives. It turns out that four units of whitespace allow an empty task to be added to the list. - ZK
